Dear Karina Cortesi,

The Library Commission considered your suggestion to have Contra Costa County Library offer a toy lending library during their November 20, 2008 meeting. They reviewed the two lenders that you directed them to in your correspondence and learned of other public libraries that offer similar services. The Commission agreed that a toy lending library could be a great resource; however they determined that it is not something that they would recommend at the current time. The Commission felt that the Library should continue with the priorities identified in the Library's Strategic Plan. The Strategic Plan is available for review on the Library's website, www.ccclib.org.

I commend you on your interest in providing accessible free resources and thank you for placing this suggestion before the Commission.

comments: Hello!

I have been doing some search and have learned about toy libraries in other cities and states, and I find that to be a great resource, this city has a lot of families with stay-at-home parents that don't have the means to buy new toys etc..

Could this be something that could be considered for the future??
